TOPIC A: "Storytelling for Impact" (Ballroom, North)
Evolution has wired our brains to respond to storytelling. In this session we will hear from two practitioners who use the craft and power of storytelling and narrative to communicate new ideas to the world, fully engage stakeholders, and move them to action.
Co-moderators:
Molly Bingham, GPC Member; Founder, President and CEO, Orb Media
Christina Lowery, CEO, Girl Rising

TOPIC B: “New Approaches to Social Finance and Impact Investing” (Sturgis Room)

This session will bring together members interested in using the power of markets and the tools of investing as levers for sustainable social impact at scale. This session is open to leaders in social finance as well as those curious to learn about new approaches and opportunities. Guests John Fullerton and Ron Cordes will discuss their frameworks and experiences and lead group discussion.

Co-moderators:

John Fullerton, Founder and President, Capital Institute

Ron Cordes, Co-Founder, Cordes Foundation

TOPIC C: “Shifting the Food System: Food as a Catalyst for Social and Environmental Change” (Ballroom, South)

Join us for a convening of the GPC Shifting the Food System Affinity Group, formed to deepen engagement of members interested in exploring food as a fundamental lever for transformative change in health, nutrition, agriculture, development, poverty, climate change and social justice. This session will focus on farmer equity and empowerment.

Co-moderators:

Jacob Israelow, GPC Member; Founder, Dirt Capital Partners

Lindsey Lusher Shute, Co-Founder and Executive Director, National Young Farmers Coalition & Hearty Roots Community Farm

Loren Cardeli, Founder and President, A Growing Culture

TOPIC D: “Refugee Migration and Cross-Border Collaboration” (Morton Room)

A significant number of GPC members are actively addressing or concerned about the refugee crisis in Europe and the Middle East. To enable members to be more effective, the GPC has formed an Affinity Group on this issue to promote peer learning and collaboration. In meetings and online discussions, members share examples of ways philanthropists are getting involved, impacts that are making a difference, gaps that need to be filled, and ideas for joint action.
